Dear Mr. Meredith,

I would like to express the sympathy your many Finnish friends feel. I wish you a good success in your studies.

It is to be hoped that you can receive this letter, even if I do not know your address.

I am a schoolgirl, 18 years old. My English is not very good. English is a deceptive language: at the beginning very easy, then it becomes always more difficult. I hope you understand my letter.

Yours very truly,
Marjatta Leppänen

Dear Miss Sappanen:

Thank you for your letter of October 9, 1962 extending your good wishes. I must agree with you the English language is quite difficult, but you did well in your letter.

The kind thoughts expressed by you and many others at this time will always be remembered.

Sincerely yours,
